

Ban on Collection of Computers and Televisions

Important Change

Ban on Curbside Trash Collection of Some Electronic Devices

Beginning January 24, 2013, A Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) mandate prohibits curbside collection of desktop computers, laptop computers, computer monitors, computer peripherals, televisions, and any components of such devices. These items can no longer be collected curbside on your bulk collection day. A new state law, The Covered Device Recycling Act 108 (CDRA), prohibits disposal of these items at municipal landfills effective 1/24/13.

For more information on the disposal ban and on proper recycling of these items, please view the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection Fact Sheet for Consumers: Recycling of Computers, Computer Monitors, Televisions, and other Electronics Devices at
